Desktop version?

Compatible w/ iOS, Google, etc

App provides different nutrition plans for users based on their goals

Students may want to gain weight/muscle, maintain their current weight, or lose weight

App uses current location to identify which dining hall options are closest

App provides a daily log of macronutrients/calories

Students can input their personal info like height, weight, gender

University of South Carolina, Columbia campus – expand to other schools as well?

Nutrition information can be vague/inaccurate

Dining halls across campus have varied hours

Allergies, dietary restrictions, food preferences